Colours Around Us

Colours are everywhere—in nature, in clothing, in art, and in our homes. They can show our personality and mood, and the shades we choose often express how we feel.

Across the world, colours also carry special meanings and traditions.

There are three primary colours: red, blue, and yellow.

These colours are special because by mixing them we can make other colours.

red + blue = purple

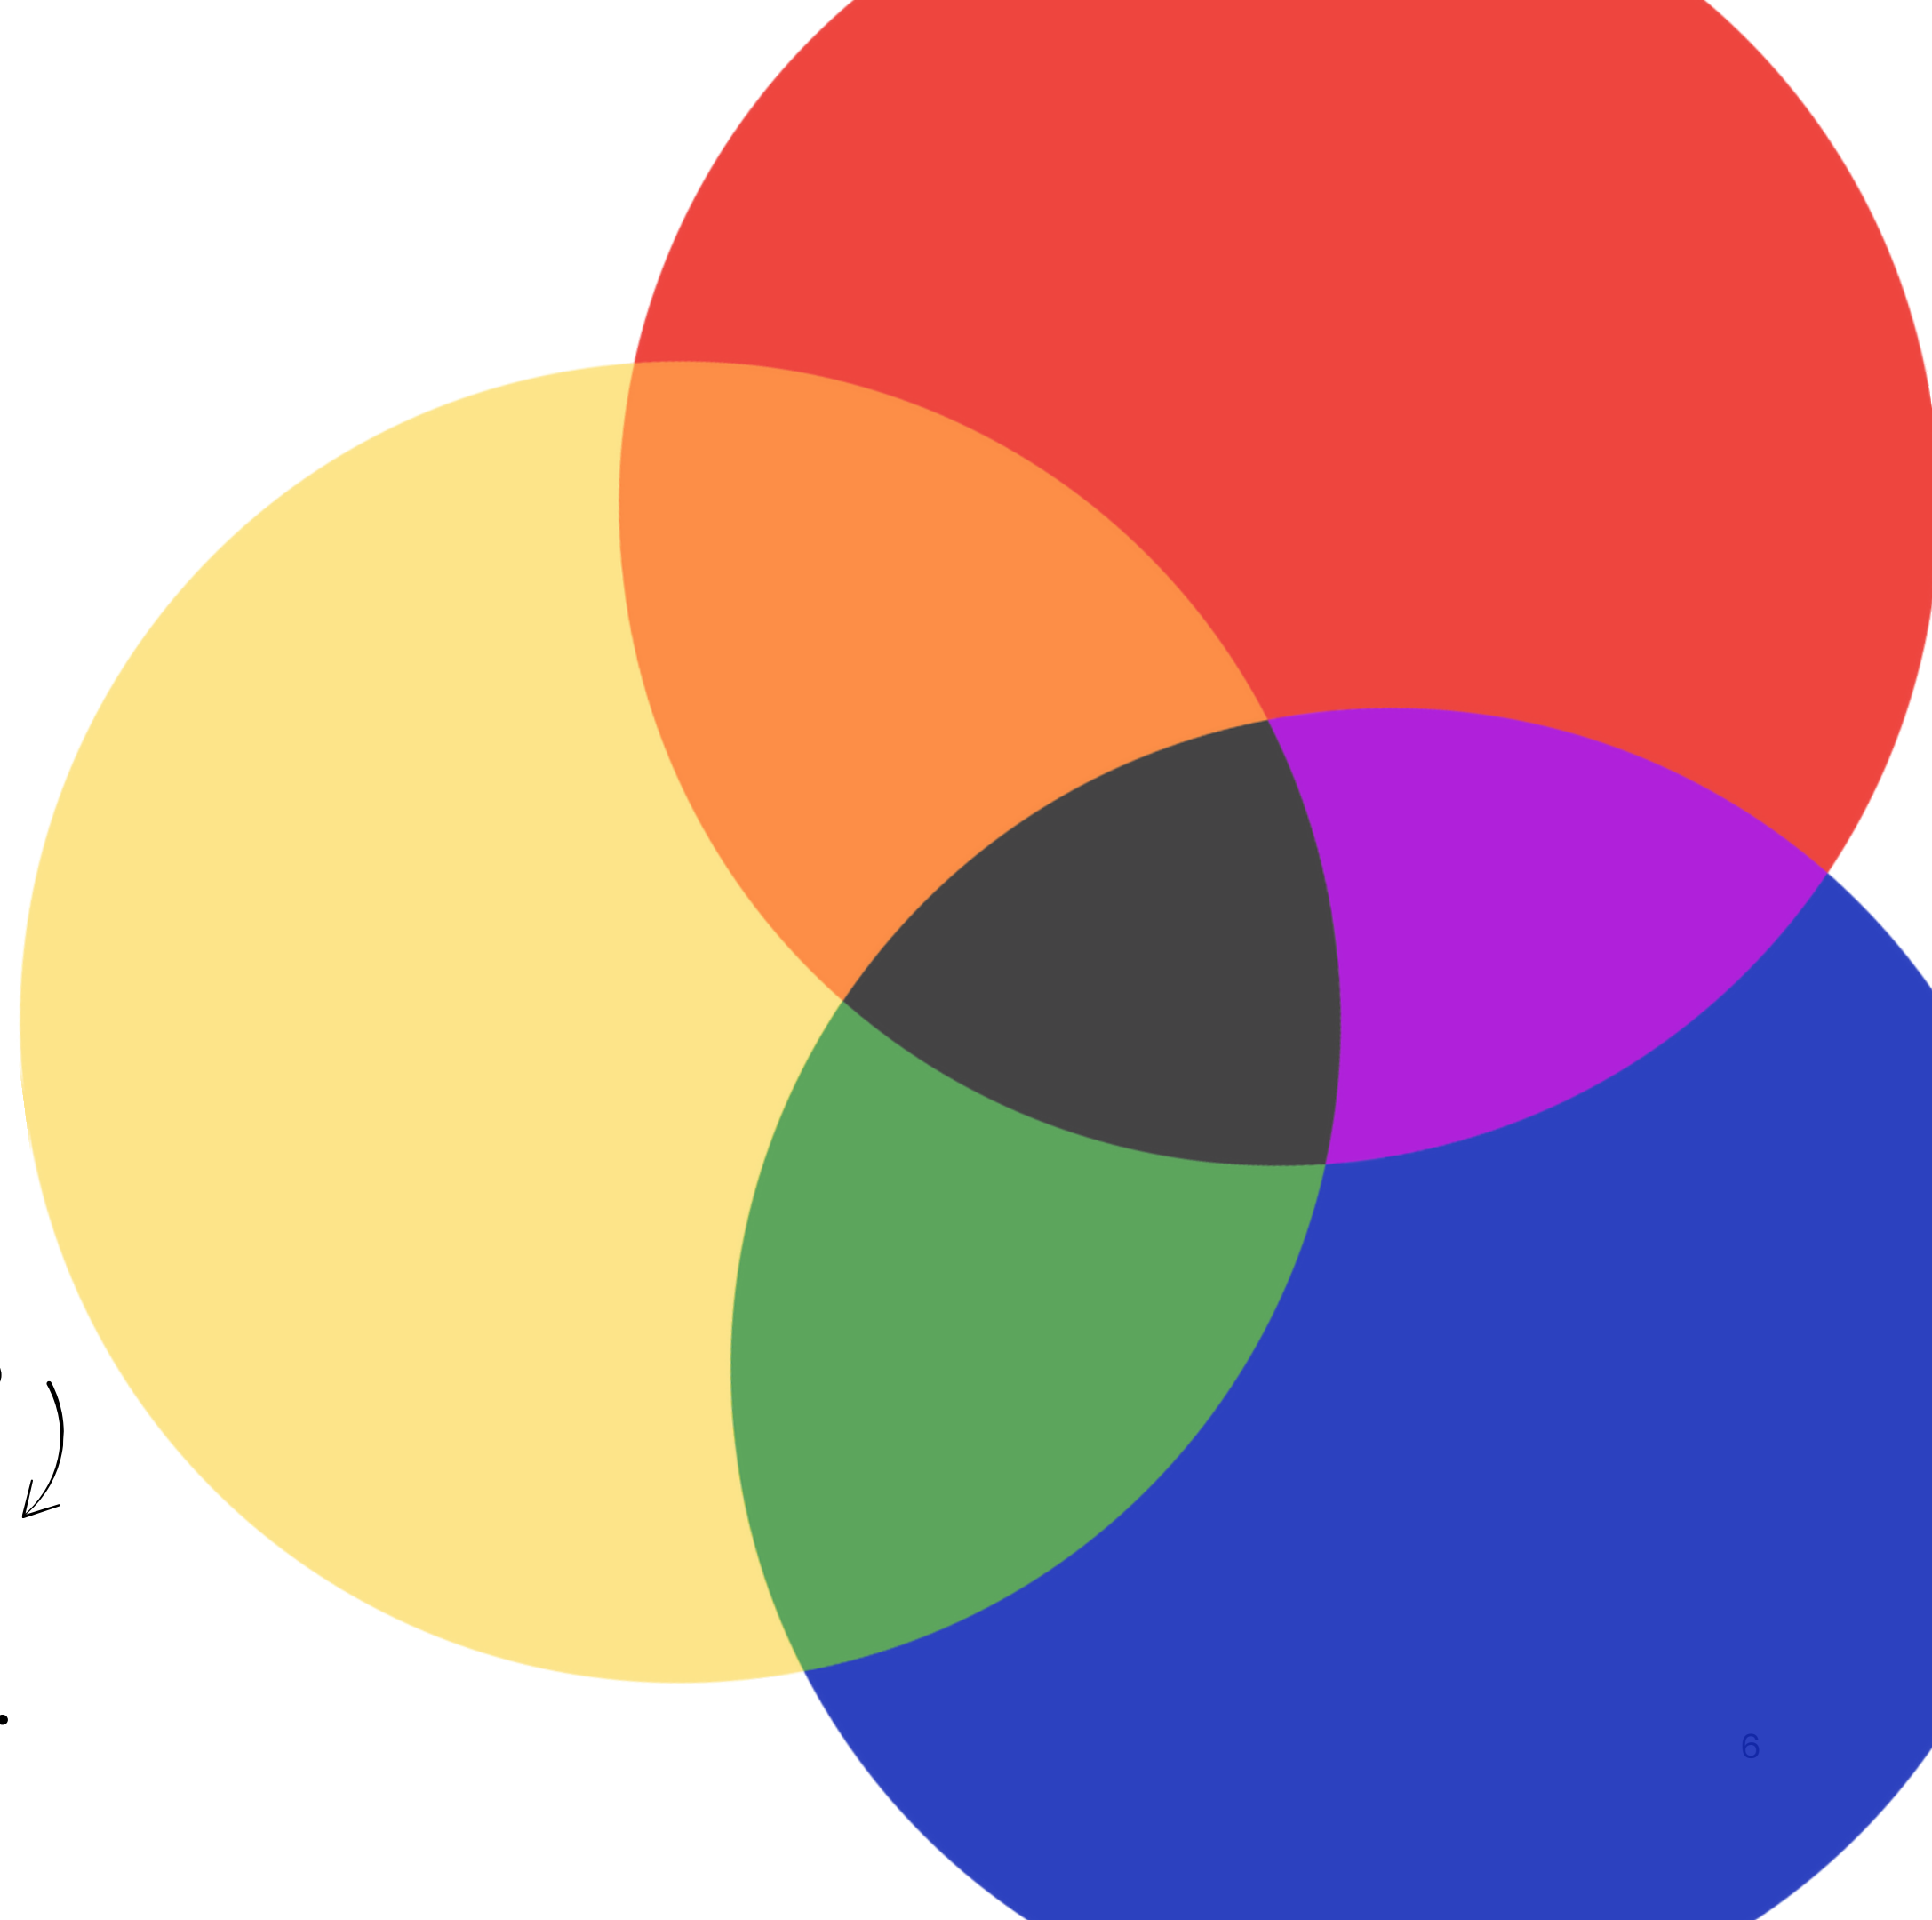

blue + yellow = green

yellow + red = orange

Do you know how to make brown colour?

Colours can be divided into cool

warm neutral.

Warm Colours

♥ Red represents love, passion, and energy. In China, red is the colour of luck, happiness and good fortune. However, when someone is angry or upset, their face sometimes becomes red. In English we say someone is “red with anger.”

♥ Orange is a fun and energetic colour. It can make people feel happy, active, or warm. It is the colour of healthy food such as carrots, pumpkins, and oranges.

♥ Yellow is the colour of the sun. It often means joy, hope, and friendliness. But sometimes yellow is used as a warning, like in traffic lights.

Cool Colours

♥ Blue is the colour of the sky and the sea. It makes people feel calm, relaxed, or sometimes even sad. In English, we say “I feel blue” when someone feels unhappy.

♥ Green is the colour of nature, plants, and health. It makes people feel fresh and peaceful. But it also has a negative meaning: jealousy. The phrase “green with envy” means someone is very jealous.

♥ Purple is often seen as a royal colour. In the past, only rich or important people could wear purple because it was expensive to make. Now, purple is often seen as a creative or mysterious colour.

What colour do people wear at weddings in your country?

Neutral Colours

♥ White often means clean, pure, or peaceful. It represents cleanliness and new beginnings. In Western countries, people wear white at weddings. White is also often used in modern design.

♥ Black means many things. In fashion, it is elegant and stylish. But it can also mean death or sadness in many cultures.

♥ Grey is a mix of black and white. It can feel calm, quiet, or serious. Sometimes people think grey is boring, but it can also feel balanced and modern.
